

WHAT IS ICL?

The Institute for Continued Learning (ICL) is a non-profit organization offering a program of classes and activities for lifetime learners.

Patterned after hundreds of similar organizations around the country, ICL gives retired and semi-retired adults an enriching and enjoyable chance to continue learning in a college environment.

ICL functions under a charter from Dixie State University and is an official on-campus organization. It is governed by an elected volunteer council.

HOW DOES ICL WORK?

Each year, more than 1,000 members participate in more than 50 on-campus classes as well as social events.

ICL offers a variety of off-campus activities, i.e., hikes, field trips, etc., so members get to know each other while exploring the area.

- Take as many classes and attend as many activities as you wish from the ICL schedule.
- ICL classes have no attendance requirements, no tests and no grades.

CONTACT ICL

Mailing Address:

Institute for Continued Learning (ICL)
Dixie State University
658 East 200 South
St. George, UT 84770

The ICL Office is located at:

658 East 200 South
St. George, Utah

Phone: (435) 652-7670

Fax: (435) 674-4726

Email: icl@dixie.edu

Website: icl.dixie.edu

INSTITUTE FOR

Providing enriching opportunities for the retired & semi-retired

CONTINUED LEARNING

challenge
try expand enhance explore share
discover learn make create

ICL OFFERINGS

As a member of ICL, you will meet new people and encounter new ideas. Be prepared to be inspired with enthusiasm for living and a desire to learn.

Classes and activities vary from year to year, but as a member, and for a small investment of only $45 for the academic year, you might choose to:

- > Hike trails known only to locals
- > Participate in field trips
- > Discuss worldwide travel
- > Figure out how to really use your computer or digital device
- > Study history and cultures
- > Exercise your brain and your body
- > Expand your photography knowledge
- > Learn a new skill
- > Develop an appreciation for music
- > Learn a foreign language
- > Read and discuss books and poetry
- > Participate in behavioral sciences
- ...and these are only a few of the things you could do!

ICL INSTRUCTORS

All classes and activities are led by volunteers, either retired professionals with expertise in their fields or individuals who have interests and skills they are willing to share.

WHO CAN JOIN?

Our members come from all walks of life, bring with them a lifetime of experiences, and are retired or semi-retired.

HOW CAN I JOIN?

The annual membership fee is $45 for the academic year which runs from September 2016 through April 2017. This fee allows members to attend all classes. There is a $10 computer lab fee for some of the classes.

Come in and register at the ICL Office:
658 East 200 South
St. George, Utah
Office Hours:
Monday – Thursday
9:30 a.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Or call: (435) 652-7670 to receive registration materials by mail.

CAN I LEAD A CLASS?

ICL is always looking for new instructors and for additional classes and activities. Since teaching is so much fun, we welcome your interest in leading a class! Please contact the ICL Office at (435) 652-7670 or icl@dixie.edu if you are interested.

TYPES OF CLASSES OFFERED

The variety of classes offered may vary depending upon membership interest and instructor availability. Though ICL is affiliated with Dixie State University, we do not offer academic credit for any classes.

The following is a list of of the Categories of Classes offered, as found in the Course Catalog. For an updated semester class list, please contact the ICL Office.

Arts & Crafts

Behavioral Sciences

Computers

Dance & Music

Photography

Field Trips

Languages

History & Politics

Literature

Physical Activity

And More!

